

SAVE THE DATE

“Shaping an ecosocial future now!

Disseminating and advancing
transdisciplinary research
on sustainability transitions”

23 – 25 May 2024

University of Jyväskylä, Finland

The conference “Shaping an ecosocial future now!” presents the main findings of the European research and doctoral training project ASTRA, combining social work and transdisciplinary sustainability transition research, policies and practices.

The conference organisers welcome transdisciplinary researchers, policy makers, NGOs, social workers and students to discuss the findings of the ASTRA project and participate in co-shaping an ecosocial transition towards a more sustainable world. The conference programme consists of keynote speakers, plenary sessions and interactive workshops on various topics related to the intersection of sustainability and social work.

ASTRA

“Shaping an ecosocial future now!
Disseminating and advancing
transdisciplinary research
on sustainability transitions”
at the University of Jyväskylä, Finland

Keynote speakers of the event

Gianinna Muñoz Arce

University of Chile

Dirk Holemans

the Belgian Green think-tank Oikos and the Green European Foundation

Barzoo Eliassi

Linnaeus University

Tiina Onkila

University of Jyväskylä

Speakers of the JYU.Wisdom and JYU.Well communities will also contribute.

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie grant agreement No 955518.

Please follow our website for more information:

www.jyu.fi/en/events/shaping-an-ecosocial-future-now